W. J. STONE WRITES A LETTER

Says He Never Saw Croker in His Life and Never Was in Communleation With Him-Closes With a Blast Against His Enemies.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 5.-Ex-Governor W. J. Stone has written the following letter to the Republic from Montreal, Canada;

My attention has been, called to an ar ticle in the Globe-Democrat of August 26. printed the morning after I left St. Louis, in which it is stated that one of the objects of my trip East was to confer with Mr. Croker, Senator Murphy and Mayor Van Wyck, with a view to devising some scheme to "sidetrack free sliver in Democratic platforms," and incidentally to "roll Senator Jones" and to "stab Mr. Bryan in the back" It is said in the article aliuded that I would stop over at Saratoga and there meet Senator Murphy and Mr. Croker, and that at that famous summer resort I would meet the aforesaid chiefs of Tammany and that "Tammany money would be lavishly expended in wining and dining me at swell cafes, as Tammany's Missouri henchman"; and by way of a contrast a picture is drawn of my friend Mr. Bland "resting quietly and philosophizing in his home at Lebanon, where he can hear the tinkle of cowbells and the lowing of the kine."

That such rot as this should appear in Republican journal is not surprising, and if I believed that it sprang alone from the inventive imagination of the Globe-Democrat reporter who penciled it, I would not notice it, but as I have reason to believe that it is an inspired lie, I ask you to do me the favor of printing this letter in the Re-

I wish to say that I never saw Mr. Croker Senator Murphy or Mayor Van Wyck in my life, and never had any communication with either of them, directly or indirectly, upon or about any political

I did not stop over at Saratoga; I never had the remotest idea of stopping at Sara-toga; I went directly to New York, and there I was told that one of the three gentlemen named was in the Adirondacks and that the other two were at different places on the seashore. Neither of them, therefore, was at Saratoga during my so journ in the state of New York. I reached New York Friday night, remained there until Sunday morning, when I went to Manhattan to see some St. Louis friends who are stopping there and invited me to visit them. After a day at the beach ! forty minutes, and left there on Tuesday for Providence, R. I. After a day at Providence I came here.

My trip to New York and Providence was purely a business trip. My trip to Montreal was to meet my wife and with her to enjoy a few days of outing and recreation in this Northern latitude.

I make this statement in detail, because the truth need only to be stated up put an end to this malicious romance printed in the Globe-Democrat under sensational headlines.

I will add, however, that while I have never seen or communicated with any of the three New Yorkers above mentioned, I know of no reason why I should not see and confer with any or all of them if I should have occasion to do so. If ever at any time I want to see them, or any of them, or anybody else, I will see them, and will not care who may know it. will not care who may know it.

My only political wish is to help the Democratic party, and if in promoting that end I find it necessary to confer with any man I will see him. If ever the time shall come when I cannot confer with any Democrat about party affairs without subjection moved. come when I cannot confer with any Democrat about party affairs without subjecting myself to the suspicion of conspring to betray my party, then my capacity for party usefulness is at an end. My devotion to the cause of bimetallism, of free coinage, needs no defense. Without going to far into ancient history, I will say that within three days after President Cleveland Issued bis call for a special session of congress, in NG, to repeal the Sherman law, I declared in a public speech at Washington park, Kansas Cliv, that I would oppose him, and I appealed to the Democracy of Missouri and the country to break away from Cleveland and stand by the principles of the party. Mine was the first utterance of that kind given by any public man in the country. Then followed the fight between the people and the administration. From that day up to the Pertic Springs convention the neople of Missouri know I was always in the thick of the fight. After the Pertic Springs convention I went into other states helping our friends all the way from Washington Cliy to Utah to organize our forces, and kent it up until the fight culminated in the Chiengo convention.

I helped to write the platform which was adopted at Pertie Springs, I wrote the address issued by the Washington conference, and had as much as any man to do with dress issued by the Washington conference gress issued by the Washington conference and had as much as any man to do with the preparation of the financial plank of the Chicago platform. After the Chicago convention I spoke all over a half dozen states in its advocacy; and since the elec-tion of 1895. I have spoken for it time and again on the stump, in newspaper inter-views and in magazine articles; and finally I wrote the financial plank of the platform recently adopted by the convention at I care nothing about what a Republican newspaper may say; but to the one or two so-called Democratic Journals of Missouri and the one or two small-bore politicians of and the one or two small-bore politicians of the state, who, instigated by unworthy motives, make insinuations against my sincerity. I will say that I have fought for this cause when some of them were silent, and have done, and will do, fully as much as any of them even now that prudence no longer urges them to be ouiet.

There is another thing I will say, and it is that I like an open fighter. I seek no quarrel with any man, but if any there be, as seems probable, who seek a quarrel with me. I pray them to be manly and speak out. He is a coward who stabs by innuendo. Besides, it is well to remember that there are ways of dragging the coward from cover and forcing him to fight in the open if he fights at ail. W. J. STONE.

Such is the policy that we always expect to pursue. In commending the ability of W. J. was the means of an additional test of the capacity of the hospital in the detention camp.

Of the 600 men on the Roumania, about 200 were so sick that they had to be put in the hospital. The authorities of the detention hospital, although they knew of the transport's arrival, had received no notice as to the number of sick men they would be expected to care for. About 5 o'clock ambulances with the sick men began to arrive at the hospital. The detention hospital will accommodate 430 men, with eight cots to a tent, which is the normal capacity. By putting ten cots in each tent, 560 patients can be taken care of, but with corresponding decrease of comfort.

At the time of the arrival of the sick men from the Roumania the hospital had already nearly 600 patients, and these 200 additional ones swelled the number to about 800, 240 more than the hospital comfortably can hold. Although there were enough cots for the 800 sick soldiers, there was not the space under canvas to place them. Therefore, 28 a mattress on the floor takes up less space than a cot, a number of patients were taken from cots and placed upon mattresses on the floor, and the cots removed. Mattresses were also placed between cots on the floor. Consequently, about 250 men are lying on mattresses on the floor, because of the lack of tent space. The detention hospital needs about fifty more tents.

ator Butler as Traitors to the Populist Party-Difficulties Develop Over Credentinis.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 5.-The national convention of the middle-of-the-road Popilists was to have convened at the Lyceum at 9 a. m., but, owing to the conferences of leaders and the inability of ignatius Donnelly and others to find the hall, the convention was not called to order until 12:30 p. m. During the forenoon the middie-of-the-roaders were in informal confer-ence and exchanged opinions enough to indicate much difference in their views as to whether they should hold a nominating convention or merely a general conference

In calling the convention to order Joe A. Parker, of Louisville, secretary of the Reform Press Association, strongly ad-vocated independent action by the Populists, whether it is done at this convention or at some future time.

Ignatius Donnelly was chosen temporary hairman, and made a most radical speech, denouncing General Weaver and all other eaders who had co-operated with fusion with the Democrats. He referred to Grover Cleveland as a traitor to the Democratic party and Senator Butler as a traitor to the Populist party. He was especially se-vere in denouncing Senator Butler as a man who reached an exalted position by conniving with the Republicans for his election to the senate and now, under instruc-tions from W. J. Bryan, he is conniving with the Democrats Mr. Donnelly advocated a reorganization of the Populist par-ty on the line of the middle-of-the-roaders, as indicated in their conference at Omaha last June and again at Nashville last July. The usual committees of credentials, reso-lutions, rules, order of business and permanent organization were appointed when recess was taken till 3 p. m.

The afternoon session disclosed many differences between the middle-of-the-roaders, who were denouncing fusion as demoralizing. They were united on the sub-moralizing. They were united on the subject of such a permanent reorganization as to prevent fusion or desertion hereafter, and on an independent ticket for 1980, but there were wide differences as to how to prevent "fusion desertions," and how to name the candidates.

As the committee on credentials had not reported Chairman Ignaths Donnelly was compelled to acceptize whoever could get the floor, and there was much discussion over a partial report on credentials. As the call for this convention was misunderstood and by many thought to have been withdrawn, it was difficult to pass on any credentials. Most of those present are selfconstituted delegates, or at least unable to show the usual credentials and there is another class claiming the right to vote proxies. As there are only two or three present from some states, the question of proxies is one on which control of the convention hinges, and it was pending s is one on which contro ntion hinges, and it was the convention adjourned committees were in session to-night.

PLATT IS FOR ROOSEVELT.

It Is the General Impression That New York Will Have a "Rough Rider" Governor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5 .- (Special.) It is the general impression that Colonel Roosevelt will be nominated for governor of New York by the Republicans at Saratoga, on the 27th inst. He is very popul r in the state and has been identified with public the 27th inst. He is very popular in the state and has been identified with public affairs for years. Of course his main votegetting power is found in his late war record.

Senator Platt is thought to be a little afraid of Roosevelt, and would really prefer not to see him nominated. But the senator is too wise to undertake the job of preventing his nomination unless he squite sure of success.

Concerning Roosevelt's candidacy the senator is quoted as saying:

"I have decided to favor the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt for governor. I know he will be nominated at the convention to be held in Saratoga on September 27: I believe by acclamation. I am convinced, also, that he will be elected. This decision has been reached by me after a careful study of the situation throughout the state, after conversation with delegates and leaders and with many persons capable of giving expression to public sentiment in their various localities.

"From all parts of the state comes a demand for Roosevelt, and none for illack. Up to this time I have kept faith with Governor Black in my statement that I did not favor any one, and would not until I had studied the situation with great care. That has been done, and I am convinced that the interests of the public and of the Republican party will be best served by the nomination of Roosevelt."

ARKANSAS ELECTION.

Dan W. Jones Re-elected Governor-Vote on Constitutional Amendments in Doubt.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., Sept. 5.-Arkansas to-day elected a full corps of state officers, on members of the lower house of the leg islature, sixteen state senators, local otacers in each of the seventy-five counties and voted on the adoption of two important constitutional amendments, as well as the question of the liquor license in the differ question of the liquor license in the different counties. The Democratic state ticket, headed by Dan W. Jones, is undoubtedly elected, the only question of doubt being the size of the Democratic plural. y.

This being an off year, the total vote will hardly exceed 125,000.

But few figures are at hand at midnight. The Republicans have carried Newton and Searcy counties and the Populists have probably carried Clarke. Cleveland, White and Nevada. A few other counties are in doubt, but the Democrats have nearly all of them. In Crawford county the vote between the Democrats and the Republicans is very close and it will be at least fortyeight hours before the result is known. In Jefferson and Garland counties the contest between the regular and the independent Democratic tickets is so close that the official count will be necessary to decide it. The indications are that Jones will have a majority over the combined opposition of from 2000 to 2000. majority over the combined opposition o from 20,000 to 30,000. The railroad commis

In the presidential election two years ago, Josiah Grout received the largest Republican majority ever given a candidate for governor in the state, but the Republicans do not expect that their candidate, Edward C. If Colonel Breckinridge was the only Confederate veteran left in the United States it would be entirely different, but to invite him to come to this city and pose as a hero when there are scores of Confederate officers with untarnished characters who could be secured as easily and who are as brilliant orators, looks as though Topeka cared but little about morality and decency. If Colonel Breckinridge had even shown any penitence for his wrong doing after the scandal, it would put matters in a different light, but so far as anybody knows he has never repented of his actions. Topeka is supposed to be largely inhabited by Christian people who are thoroughly in favor of morality, and to bring W. C. P. Breckenride here on invitation to deliver a public address is something that will injure the reputation of the city.

Mr. J. P. Davi, "resident of the Kansas Mutual Life Insurance Company, and a prominent church member, is also opposed to Colonel Breckinridge coming to this city in the role of public crator.

"When I read of his acceptance of the invitation to speak here," said he, "I at once thought what a grave mistake. SOMEONE CUT THE ROPE.

How Sheriff Cook Didn't Make a Big Haut in a Raid on a Tent Joint.

TOPEKA, KAS., Sept. 5.—(Special.) There was trouble at thie Labor day pic-nic at Garfield park this evening. Some chronic law violators opened a joint in a big tent in the park. Across the front of "Museum of Anatomy, for men only." In-side was a carload of beer and a dozen bartenders handing out glasses of beer over a temporary bar to the thirsty wayfarers. Sheriff Cook swooped down upon the outlit shortly before dusk, and as he was inside trying to corral the venders and the stock of liquor, some persons, just in order to add interest to the proceedings, cut the ropes supporting the tent. The can-vas and poles collapsed, covering the sher-iff, his deputies, bartenders and all. The bartenders got out first and when the sher-iff and his deputies reached the surface they discovered that the bartenders had de-camped. To-night the illuminations are in full blast verywhere from the triumphal arches in the public places and at street intersec-

Excursionists have been arriving by the housands for the past two days, and with the arirval to-day of Commander-in-Chief Gobin and his staff, Rear Admiral Kelley and his staff, Mrs. S. J. Martin, president of the W. C. A.: Mrs. Flora N. Davey, president of the Ladies of the G. A. R.; Mrs. Jennie Laird, president of the Ladies' Naval Association, and their respective staff of ladies; Colonel A. D. Shaw, of New York; Colonel J. A. Sexton, of Chicago, and Colonel I. F. Mack, of Sandusky, and their respective followers in the contest for the election of commander-in-chief and others, the encampment of 1898 was in full blast or the first day.

The large Music hall was filled to its limit at the naval camp fire to-night, while receptions and reunions were going on at other places all over the city. There will be big camp fires at Music hall and Camp Sherman every night this week and smaller gatherings at other points.

There is a notable absence of the old commanders, but they have passed away. Many of the comrades refer to the serious iliness of General Buell, who is now considered the ranking survivor of the civil conflict.

Commander-in-Chief Gobin came from Camp Alger via Camp Meade, and has eave of absence for six days only, so that e must get back to Camp Meade by Saturday, at which place he is to report or his return. He was accompanied by the following of his staff. General Thomas J Stewart, Major Charles Williams, Colonel Charles Burrows, Colonel J. H. Holcomb Colonel J. F. Lovett, Colonel R. B. Beath and others.

Commander-in-Chief Gobin and staff visited Camp Sherman this afternoon, when the camp in charge of Captain Byrne, was formally turned over to him. This camp has a capacity of over 15,000 in its tents and ample provisions for meals. The official salute was fired upon the arrival of the com mander-in-chief, after which the bands rendered concerts. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. David H Moore, editor of the Western Christian Advocate, who was a colonel in the civil war. Major Joseph W. Wilshire, chairman of the committee on camps, made the presentation speech, and General J. P. S. Gobin responded in an eloquent address of acceptance. The ceremonies attending the raising of the flag were in charge of Captain J. B. Sampson, after which there was a concert and other festivities.

The National Association of Naval Veterans threatens to withdraw from the reunions of the week. When the visiting naval veterans were escorted to Horticultural hall in the exposition building today, they rebelled against arrangements. They acknowledged that the cots and everything were better than usual on such occasions, but they wanted quarters in a boat and no where else.

They have had boats at other places, notably Buffalo, Louisville, Detroit and Pittsburg, and claim they were promised a boat here. Commodore William E. Atkins, of this city, who is in charge of the local naval arrangements, has had no opposition for rear admiral of the association, to succeed Keily, and he at noon to-day announced his withdrawal from the contest, although he had more than enough indersements to elect.

The indignation centered against Atkins and he was forced out of the race, although he is not responsible for the situation. He did all he could to charter a steamboat, but the demand was so great that the citizens' committee could not get a boat. The indignation centered against Atkins and he was forced out of the race, although he is not responsible for the situation. He did all he could to charter a steamboat, but the demand was so great that the citizens' committee could not get a boat.

The camplire of the naval veterans, known as the dog watch, at Music hall, tonight, was attended by over 8,000 people, Congressman Jacob H. Bromwell presided and, in addition to Water's Military band and a chorus of several hundred voices, there was music by the Cambro-American Choral Society and noted soloists.

The biograph was used during inter Moore, editor of the Western Christian Adocate, who was a colonel in the civil war. Major Joseph W. Wilshire, chalrman of the fliers in the Spanish war, as well as in the vil war, Rear Admiral Daniel F. Kelley spoke of Rear Admiral Daniel F. Kelley spoke of the great progress made in the American navy since the time that the present naval veterans were in active service. Addresses were also delivered by Colonel Isaac K. Archer, Rear Admiral B. S. Osborne and Archer, Rear Administration of Illinois; Colonel James A. Sexton, of Illinois; Colonel Shaw, of New York, and Colonel I. F. Mack, of Ohio, the three candidates for commander-in-chief, are all here with elaboration of the commander of the colone of the co orate headquarters and with their respect ive following for the coming election, which will take place Thursday evening or Fri day morning.

Owing to the fact that the senior vice commander-in-chief has for seventeen years been conceded to the city that entertained the encampment, and the fact that the Cincinnati posts have selected W. C. Johnson cinnati posts have selected W. C. Johnson for senior vice commander, the Ohlo department is not solid for Mr. Mack for commander-in-chief. The friends of Colonel Mack, however, claim that the New York department is not solid for Colonel Shaw, and that the Illinois department is not solid for Colonel Shaw, and that the Illinois department is not solid for Colonel Sexton. This is denied by both Shaw and Sexton.

The contest for the location of the next encampment seems to lie between Philadelphia, Kansas City and Denver, and the canvass has not proceeded sufficiently to indicate as yet which candidate for commander-in-chief or which location for the next encampment is in the lead.
